

Michael Wisler, Vice President, IT for Acquisitions, Customer Management and Fraud

Capital One

Mike joined Capital One in December 2000 as a Project Manager in US Credit Card Acquisitions, running several large-scale technology and business process re-engineering initiatives. In 2003, Mike transitioned to Capital One's Helix Program which was corporate-wide technology & business process re-engineering effort where he was accountable for several business functions.

Upon completion of the Helix Program, Mike relocated to England to manage the delivery of Capital One Europe's equivalent re-invention, The Card Infrastructure Strategy (CIS). CIS leveraged several partners on three continents, delivering on-time & on-budget.

Mike went on to design, negotiate and manage the outsourcing of the UK technical infrastructure functions to global partners and was appointed the UK Divisional CIO in April 2009. Having recently returned to the US, Mike is the Vice President overseeing IT for Acquisitions, Customer Management and Fraud.

Mike holds a B.S. in Environmental & Hazardous Materials Engineering from The University of Findlay and a M.S. in the Management of Information Technology from the McIntire School of Commerce at The University of Virginia.

Mike is an avid athlete and has completed six marathons since 2005 in addition to summiting two of the world's tallest mountains in the past four years (Kilimanjaro in Tanzania and Aconcagua in Argentina).
